DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application. Applicant's submission filed on June 22, 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 44 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 44 appears to claim both an apparatus and a process. A single claim which claims both an apparatus and the method steps of using the apparatus is indefinite under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. In Ex parte Lyell, 17 USPQ2d 1548 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1990).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 44 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention embraces both product or machine and process and is precluded by the language of 35 U.S.C. 101, which sets forth statutory classes of the invention in the alternative only. Claims that embrace both product or machine and process are precluded by the language of 35 U.S.C. 101, wherein statutory classes of the invention are set forth in the alternative only. For the purposes of examination the claim is being interpreted as an apparatus claim.

Art Unit: 3732

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 39-40, 42 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson et al. (US 6,066,243).

Anderson et al. disclose a portable or “hand-held” medical apparatus 10 including a housing or “basis module” 12 having a central processing unit (CPU) 70, a power supply 22, first and second replaceable modules 16 and 33 and a touch screen interactive display or “input mechanism and display” 18 (Figs. 1a, 1b, 2, col. 5, lines 65-67, col. 6, lines 1-44 and lines 59-67, col. 7, lines 1-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 41 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Anderson et al. (US 6,066,243), as applied to claim 39, in view of Walker et al. (US 5,651,775).

Anderson et al. disclose all elements of the claimed invention except that apparatus 10 is configured for limited access to some operations based on user identification.

Walker et al. teach controlled access to a device through a keypad 170 by entry of an identification code (col. 12, lines 60-67 and col. 13, lines 1-3).

Accordingly it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided a user-specific identification code for the Anderson et al. device, as taught by Walker et al., for controlled access.

Art Unit: 3732

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 43 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on June 22, 2004, under "REMARKS," have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection made in this office action.
